

Marie-Josée Héту is the Managing Partner of the Trois-Rivières office who focuses and devotes her practice to the fields of labour law, labour relations as well as occupational health and safety. She handles cases involving grievance and dispute arbitration, collective bargaining and individual labour relations.

Ms. Héту is also keenly interested in issues related to human rights, privacy, and workers' compensation. She advises medium and large businesses and acts for both private and public sector clients.

Over the years, Ms. Héту has often acted as employer spokesperson in collective bargaining and advised employers on planning the negotiation and developing the strategy.

For several years, Ms. Héту was a lecturer in the Administration faculty at Université de Sherbrooke.

After practising for twenty years at another major law firm, Ms. Héту joined Lavery's Trois-Rivières team on March 1, 2014.

Distinctions

- The Canadian Legal LEXPERT® Directory in the field of Workers' Compensation, since 2023
- The Best Lawyers in Canada in the field of Labour and Employment Law, 2022
- The Canadian Legal LEXPERT® Directory in the field of Labour relations and Employment Law, since 2019

2024 LEXPERT® RANKED LAWYER

Education

- LL.B., Université de Montréal, 1991

Boards and Professional Affiliations

- Member of the Executive Committee of the firm (Lavery Lawyers)
- Commissioner of the Commission des services juridiques