

Anthonie Vézina-Crawford

Associate

Anthonie Vézina-Crawford is a member of the Litigation and the Family, Personal and Estate Law groups. She regularly represents clients before the Court of Québec, the Superior Court, and the Court of Appeal.

Ms. Vézina-Crawford joined the Quebec City office after completing her articles there in 2014.

As part of her litigation practice, Ms. Vézina-Crawford handles all aspects of the dispute, from general strategy to arguments before the courts, including the negotiation and preparation of proceedings.

As part of her family and estate practice, she drafts agreements and litigates and settles divorces and separations, child custody and access rights, spousal support, division of assets and filiation (contesting and claiming paternity).

After completing her bachelor of laws, Ms. Vézina-Crawford also completed a bachelor's degree in kinesiology, a program offered by the faculty of medicine of Université Laval. For that program, she did a summer internship in ergonomics and occupational health and safety at CAA Québec.

Ms. Vézina-Crawford was a finalist in the 2013 Face à Face debates of the law faculty of Université Laval.
