

Danielle Bureau

Project Coordinator

Danielle Bureau is the coordinator of the linguistic services department. As such, she assists the director in coordinating and following up on translation mandates received from both internal and external clients.

The linguistic services team generally performs translation mandates on behalf of large Canadian and foreign law firms, institutional clients and other corporate clients primarily in the field of securities law, but does also receive mandates in a wide variety of other areas.

Danielle draws on more than 20 years of experience in the area of linguistic services acquired, among other things, in a previous position with another large Canadian law firm.
