

Maude Colpron

Student

Maude Colpron joined Lavery as a student in 2019. She is presently completing her bachelor of law, in the cooperative program, as well as a masters of business administration, at the Université de Sherbrooke. She will be going to study at the Université Catholique de Lyon in the fall of 2019 as part of a student exchange program.

During her studies, Maude worked in her first co-op placement for a large pharmaceutical company, which gave her the opportunity to make use of her knowledge of business administration.
