

Anne-Marie Asselin

Associate

Anne-Marie Asselin is a member of the firm's Litigation and Dispute Resolution Group, working primarily in civil and commercial litigation.

Her practice includes giving legal advice, drafting proceedings, developing strategies in the files, negotiating with the opposing parties, and representation in the civil courts. She also analyzes and drafts various commercial agreements as well as service and employment contracts.

Ms. Asselin is a conscientious and thorough lawyer who is devoted to the clientele she serves. She has great adaptability, enabling her to work efficiently and rigorously, while never losing sight of her clients' interests, the financial considerations, or the risks associated with the file.

She is very involved in her community, acting as a municipal councillor for the municipality of Saint-Tite-des-Caps, while also being an administrator for several non-profit organizations.
