

Yasmine Belrachid

Law Student

Yasmine Belrachid joined the Lavery team as a student in 2022. She is currently pursuing her law degree at the University of Montreal and will be articling with the firm in 2024.

During her studies, Yasmine was involved as a peer-helper in the mental health support program for law students and as head of faculty relations for University of Montreal's Law Journal.

Yasmine also worked as a legal research assistant while being a lifeguard at her university's sports complex. Finally, she completed an internship with a parent company in consumer products during which she was able to put her knowledge in human resources to good use.

Distinctions

■ Diplomacy award, Montreal's Model United Nations simulation

Education

■ Bachelor of laws, University of Montreal, expected to graduate in 2023

Boards and Professional Affiliations

- Pro Bono Student Canada, 2021-2022, Volunteer
- Peer-helpers of the University of Montreal, 2021-2022, Peer-helper
- University of Montreal's Law Journal, 2021-2022, Head of faculty relations
- Model United Nations diplomatic team, 2020-2021, Head delegate

 Please note that Yasmine Belrachid does not currently work at Lavery, de Billy. Date of arrival to be confirmed.*