

Christian Chidiac

Associate

Christian Chidiac is a lawyer in the Business Law group of the Montréal office and practices primarily in commercial and transactional law.

Before joining Lavery, Christian worked as a Foreign Service Officer at Global Affairs Canada, the department of the Government of Canada that manages Canada's diplomatic and consular relations. In this position, he worked in the division dealing with bilateral relations between Canada and Western Europe. Christian also worked as a legal counsel for an international manufacturing company. Through these work experiences, he developed a perspective focused on clients' specific issues and needs, as well as a sensitivity to international issues.

Christian was admitted to the Barreau du Québec in 2020 and completed a Juris Doctor in Common Law and a Bachelor of Civil Law at the Université de Montréal. Prior to his legal studies, Christian also completed a bachelor's degree in international studies and relations.
