lavery
Lawyers

Resource Development: Aboriginal Issues

June 1, 2011

The combination of rising commodities prices together with the expressed intention of the Quebec government to develop the region north of the 55th parallel have sparked an increase in the number of natural resources development projects. However, businesses promoting such projects must inevitably face aboriginal law issues. What do they need to know? How should they act?

It is only available in the French language.

Copyright (c) Lavery, de Billy, S.E.N.C.R.L. - L.L.P.