AMF Investigations: The duty to answer an investigator and his jurisdiction to rule on objections (continued see In Fact and In Law Express, December 2012)

July 1, 2012

The Securities Act [SA] allows the Autorité des marchés financiers [the "AMF"] to order investigations to ensure compliance with the SA and to repress contraventions which may be committed. This is the context in which the Court of Appeal handed down a decision on June 22, 2012 going to the very heart of the role played by the AMF's investigators and the scope of their powers during examinations conducted in connection with an investigation.
