lavery
Lawyers

The Court of Appeal reiterates the admissibility in evidence of reports done in the course of administrative investigations

September 1, 2012

In a decision rendered on July 5th, the Court of Appeal reiterates the admissibility in evidence of reports done in the course of administrative investigations in the context of a civil trial, confirming the importance of any administrative investigation that follows an accident.

Copyright (c) Lavery, de Billy, S.E.N.C.R.L. - L.L.P.