lavery
Lawyers

TSX amends director election rules and proposes a majority voting requirement

November 1, 2012

Issues surrounding the election of directors of public companies gained the attention of Canadian securities regulators in the last years due to concerns expressed by large institutional investors that current Canadian rules regarding the election of directors were not democratic nor aligned with current practices in other countries.

Copyright (c) Lavery, de Billy, S.E.N.C.R.L. - L.L.P.